DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 7, 8 and 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bartels (4,716,858). See 86, fig. 4 and col. 6, lines 42-64.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim(s) 4, 5, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bartels in view of Pouchak (6,536,678). Bartels discloses all of the limitations of the claim(s) except for positioning a bypass valve for avoiding condensation. Pouchak discloses the presence of positioning a bypass valve for avoiding condensation. See claim 6. Hence, one skilled in the art would find it obvious to modify the system of Bartels to include the positioning a bypass valve for avoiding condensation of Pouchak for the purpose of heat exchanger protection.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bartels in view of Pouchak. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provided an inlet temperature sensor for a secondary heat exchanger, since it has been held that mere duplication of parts has no patentable significance unless a new and unexpected result is produced. In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960).

Regarding claims 1-20, it has been held that the recitation that an element is "adapted to" perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The provided references are representative of the state of the art that is applicable to the applicant's invention.
